

Meeting Notice: IRDG Spring Sponsor Meeting

The 229th IRDG meeting will be hosted by Thermo Fisher Scientific at their Hemel Hempstead site on Wednesday 8th March 2023. The programme is shown below. If you would like to attend, please download the registration form and follow the instructions provided.

Programme

09.30 – 10.15	Registration and tea/coffee
10.15	Introduction: Mark Croke and Gareth Barnard, Thermo Fisher Scientific, Neil Everall, IRDG
10:30	Don Clark – Pfizer – “First, Understand your measurement and spectrum”
11:00	Paola Ciselli – 3M – “3M, or not 3M, that is the question”
11:30	Marianne Ismail – Microbira – “Bacterial Identification by FTIR-ATR spectroscopy”
12:00	Maria Giovanna Lizio – University of Manchester – “Selective-sampling Raman imaging techniques for ex vivo assessment of surgical margins in cancer surgery”
12:30	Lunch and tour of Thermo Fisher demonstration laboratory
13:30	Judith Lee– Tate Modern – “Modern oil paint characterisation and water sensitivity”
14:00	Edmund Lo – Specac – “Novel applications and techniques utilising FTIR Spectroscopy”
14:30	Wren Montgomery – Natural History Museum – “Will It Fit? FTIR Microscopy at the Natural History Museum”
15:00	Stephanie Brookes – AZ – “Vibrational Spectroscopy for control of Solid Form and Peptide Secondary structure in Pharmaceutical Development”
15:30	Tea/coffee and end